Net Cost Of Ike's Farm Plan To Be Below $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The net cost to the taxpayers of President Eisenhower's soil bank plan to bolster the farm economy probably would be far less than the billion-dollar price tag popularly attached to it.

That is true, at least, if it works as Agriculture Department officials hope it will.

Department officials said the plan—recommended to Congress by Eisenhower in a special message Monday—would channel about a billion dollars into farmers' pockets this year in the form of cash and commodities from government-held surpluses.

Would Receive Surpluses

Under one phase of the plan, farmers who underplant their allotments for cotton and wheat would be reimbursed from surpluses of these crops for production they would lose on land made idle under the program.

But this estimated billion dollars

Money of Fund For Republic Two-Thirds Gone

Hutchins Says Grant Of 15 Million To Be Spent In Four Years

CHICAGO (AP)—The Fund For the Republic has spent two-thirds of its 15 million dollar grant, says President Robert M. Hutchins, and the balance will be gone in about four years at the current spending rate.

Hutchins, in a speech Monday to the American Civil Liberties Union's Illinois division, said one-third of the 10 million dollars spent has been in the interest of preventing racial discriminations.

Says KKK Revived

The former chancellor of the University of Chicago said the Ku Klux Klan has been revived under another name in Mississippi with the object of driving 500,000 Negroes out of the state within the next 10 years.

Hutchins, told newsmen after his address that he had been reelected president of the fund for another year. The fund was established with a 15 million dollar grant from the Ford Foundation to work for civil liberties.

"I have no intention of resigning," said Hutchins, who has been criticized for some grants and studies the fund had financed.

Fund Criticized

The fund has been criticized by some congressmen and American Legion officials as being soft toward communism. The fund was set up in 1951 with a grant of 1 million dollars to promote "freedom of thought, inquiry, and expression." It was granted 14 million dollars more in 1953.

Hutchins, in his speech, said he joined the Fund For The Republic to promote the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights.

"But I have underestimated the people's interest in, and of, these documents," Hutchins said. He said some newspapers have a "high regard" for the First Amendment, which guarantees freedom of the press, but that they do not preoccupy themselves with the others.

Admits Arranging Fatal Abortion

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Silver admitted today she arranged the unsuccessful abortion the district attorney charges killed her daughter, Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher, last August.

In a private interview with a Philadelphia Evening Bulletin reporter the wife of a food chain executive made these points in discussing publicly for the first time her part in the crime for which she is indicted as an accessory:

1. Her husband, Herman, knew nothing of the arrangements for the abortion on the fatal night of Aug. 24.
2. Her daughter, a bride of two months, had told her her story-book elopement June 24 with a Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle policeman was a "terrible mistake."
3. Doris had urged her father to start divorce proceedings.
4. Doris told her mother that if she was pregnant "You're my parent and you've got to help me," and also "I want an abortion."
5. Gave the mother the name of a woman who might help in finding an abortionist.

The 49-year-old Mrs. Silver sat by the side of her husband, 52, as she told the events that led up to death of her daughter in the North Philadelphia apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz. The Schwartzes have been charged with performing the abortion. Trial is tentatively scheduled for the end of this month.

Some Midwest Republicans Rap Ike's Farm Plan

Soil Bank Plan Draws Praise Of Legislators From Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Midwestern Republicans expressed dissatisfaction with President Eisenhower's farm program today while Democrats generally said they retain political initiative on the issue.

Some parts of Eisenhower's package drew praise from legislators in both parties. One such portion was the soil bank plan designed to reduce plantings and cut down on the huge, price-depressing surpluses of some commodities. Democrats contended this plan was lifted from their own proposals of recent years.

No Effect Before Election

But several Midwestern Republicans said they were disappointed because they doubt that the Eisenhower program can have any positive effect on farm prices before the November election.

Several Democrats argued, as they have in the past, that a return to rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity, abandoned by the administration in the 1954 law, is the only effective way to give farmers a needed boost in income.

One of them, Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota, predicted the Senate will write such supports into its package farm bill, scheduled for early consideration in that body. The Agriculture Committee has before it a bill passed by the House last year to re-establish 90 per cent floors for basic crops. Parity is a legal price level designed to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Humphrey, a member of the committee, said, however, that the fixed supports might be modified in either or both of two ways.

Would Limit Maximum

One would be to limit the maximum supports to high-quality products. The other would be to limit the amount of price support money given to a single farm; Eisenhower suggested that Congress consider

Lisbon Council Elects Wolfe

Sam Cosma Selected As New Member

LISBON — Council Monday night elected a president for 1956, chose a new member to fill a vacant Council seat, hiked the salary of the village solicitor, and reappointed the street commissioner.

Elected president was Emmett Wolfe, appointed to Council about 18 months ago to fill an unexpired term.

Sam Cosma of 648 N. Market St. was named to Council by a unanimous vote of the members after Leland Higgins, a new member, made the motion to elect him. A Republican, Cosma was defeated in his bid for a Council post in the primary election last May. He succeeds Donald Dawes, who resigned effective Dec. 31 after serving five and one-half years.

Dawes, 1955 Council president, resigned shortly after he was sworn in for a new term Dec. 28. A side salesman, he moved just outside the village on Rt. 30 east about two weeks ago to operate a motel he purchased recently.

The other councilmen are Ira J. Neville, Fred Reese and Gerald Sanders.

Council agreed to hike the salary of Attorney Charles Pike, village solicitor, from $900 to $1,200 annually. The solicitor requested the increase because of additional duties involved in handling legal work for the interceptor sewer system, sewage treatment plant and swimming pool.

In addition to the salary hike, Council sanctioned Pike's request that he not be required, as part of his solicitor's duties, to handle village cases in a court of record.

Howard Koffel of E. Washington St. was reappointed street commissioner. Council, however, took no action on the reappointment of a fire chief for 1956.

Council approved a temporary appropriations ordinance for $200,000 to cover the cost of running the village until it okay's its annual appropriations ordinance in June. The temporary outlay represents

2 CAR MISHAPS OCCUR

Two minor accidents occurred over the week-end, police reported today.

A car driven by Slemmons A. Chaney of Ulrichville, collided with an auto driven by Edward Weingard of RD 3, Salem, causing minor damage to both cars at the intersection of W. State St. and Howard Ave., Sunday, at 2:38 p. m.

Howard Stoner of 160 S. Lincoln Ave. backed his car into an auto driven by Grace V. Scott of 620 S. Union Ave. Saturday at 10:20 a. m. on S. Lincoln Ave., police said.

County Slayer To Be Freed On Feb. 21

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A policeman's slayer who has been in Ohio Penitentiary for the last 29 years receives his freedom Feb. 21.

He is Nick Scaccuto, 59, convicted in the first degree murder of a Wellsville, Columbiana County, policeman who was investigating a drinking party. Scaccuto received a Christmas commutation of sentence from Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The sentence was reduced to second degree murder, making him eligible for parole consideration. The parole board today announced Scaccuto's parole along with 58 others.

Patrolman James Kenny, 30, was killed when he investigated a drinking party March 16, 1926 at the home of Frank Maggio in Wellsville. Police reports show the officer, married and the father of two, was attacked by five persons who knocked him to the ground and fired eight shots into his body. Kenny was unable to draw his service revolver, but did reach a .32 caliber revolver in his coat pocket. He fired several shots before he died, two of which hit Scaccuto.

Scaccuto ran to a friend's home where he was arrested.

Police Continue Railroad Segregation

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Signs dividing the races in railroad and bus stations remained in several cities today as officials insisted segregation will continue despite a ban by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Chief W. D. Rayfield of the Jackson city police said his men will be stationed at the Illinois Central Railroad depot to enforce the city's stand if necessary. Police replaced segregation signs removed by railroad workers.

The ICC ordered an end to segregated waiting rooms for interstate travelers and the order went into effect today. The edict does not apply to passengers who won't cross state lines.

The Southern Railway station in Hattiesburg posted a sign reading "Colored Waiting Room for Intrastate Passengers." "Apparently, Negro passengers traveling across state lines had the choice of using the Negro or white facility."

Cold Weather Continues In Southeast U. S.

Icy Weather Blamed For 12 Deaths On Highways, Sidewalks

By The Associated Press

The coldest weather of the winter continued in Florida and other parts of the Southeast today. Damage to crops in Florida alone was estimated in the millions of dollars.

Meanwhile, more rain, snow and sleet pelted wide areas in eastern sections of the country. The icy weather was blamed for more than a dozen deaths on Northeast highways and sidewalks.

Freezing Rain Continues

Rain continued in New England and the Middle Atlantic states. There was rain, snow and freezing drizzle in the eastern Great Lakes region, the eastern and central parts of the Ohio Valley and the western sections of Virginia and North Carolina.

Rains continued to lash the New England area and the forecast was for more rain and windy weather through Wednesday, bringing a threat of floods in some sections. Rain which started Sunday measured more than two inches in many New England cities, including Boston, Worcester, Mt. Washington, N. H., and Providence, R. I.

Floods Threaten

One of the most seriously threatened flood area was in southern New Hampshire where the Contoocook river and Bubaust Brook overflowed and isolated at least one residential area around the Peterborough and Jaffrey, N. H. areas.

The combination of rain and melting snow and ice also brought apprehension elsewhere in New England.

Further south in New Jersey, windwhipped seas pounded the state's coastal areas, combining with abnormally high tides to cause extensive flooding conditions. Atlantic City was partially cut off from the mainland by flooding of one of the two principal traffic arteries—the White Horse Pike.

There was flooding at the north end of Absecon Island. Water was hub deep at the doors of the Atlantic City Press Building.

Cold In Miami

It was colder this morning in Miami—43 above—than in Portland, Maine, where the reading was 44. Miami suburban areas reported below freezing—29 degrees. Temperatures dropped into the 30s as far south as Mobile, Ala., and West Palm Beach, Fla. It was 27 at Jackson, Miss.

In Florida, heavy damage was reported to tomatoes, beans, watermelons, eggplant and sweet corn from the Lake Okechobee region south of the Florida Keys.

John Campbell, Dade (Miami) County farm agent, estimated damage at 10 million dollars. "I would estimate that 30 to 40 per cent of the tender crops were destroyed," he said.

Seventy miles up the coast, at West Palm Beach, County Agent M. U. Mounts said the situation was "as bad or worse than anything I have known in the 30 years I have been in this office."

He summed up the situation in three words: "We've had it." Mounts said green beans, squash, cucumbers, tomatoes, eggplant and peppers were damaged in every section of Palm Beach County. Citrus, now in the midst of harvesting, apparently escaped serious damage but growers were warned to protect against continued cold.

2 Persons Hurt As Ice-Coated Roads Cause 3 Area Mishaps

A Youngstown youth was hospitalized with injuries suffered in one of three district traffic mishaps caused by slippery highways Monday, state highway patrolmen reported. One driver was cited.

Freezing rain last night coated streets and highways in the Salem district, making motoring extremely hazardous. The light rain froze as it fell, piling up a heavy coating of ice on car windshields.

James Clark, 16, of Youngstown is in fairly good condition at the Central Clinic Hospital with a possible fracture of the right leg received in a one-car mishap on Rt. 62, one mile east of its junction with Rt. 173, at 8:20 p. m. Monday.

According to patrolmen, an east-bound car driven by Helen M. Bungo, 38, of Youngstown, slid on icy pavement into a culvert on the south side of the road, causing heavy damage to the auto. Clark was a passenger in the vehicle.

The driver received contusions of the left knee and hand in the crash, was treated at Central Clinic and released.

In a similar accident on Rt. 62, one-half mile north of the Mahoning Columbiana County line, at 9:30 p. m. yesterday, a northbound car driven by Audrey J. Vaughn, 19, of 335 W. 9th St., struck a culvert and went into a ditch after sliding on the icy highway. Minor damage was received by the car, patrolmen said.

Richard K. Georgia, 27, of Moline, Ill., lost control of his northbound car on an icy curve, causing his car to sideswipe a southbound truck-trailer driven by Ronal C. Wilson, 53, of Canton, on Rt. 30, one-quarter of a mile south of its junction with Rt. 7, at 9:45 a. m.

The impact of the crash caused the truck to hit a guard rail on the west side of the highway, patrolmen said.

Georgia's car was demolished, while Wilson's truck received considerable damage, patrolmen said. Georgia was cited by patrolmen for unsafe operation.

School Board Rehires Clerk George Koontz

George F. Koontz, who last Tuesday declined to accept a Board of Education offer of $3,200 annual salary as clerk, was re-hired by the school board last night at a special meeting.

Koontz, clerk for the past 22 years, said he had reconsidered and was an applicant for the job. After discussing the situation, the board voted unanimously to give him a two-year contract at $3,200 a year.

Previously he asked the board to increase his salary from the $2,600 he received the last two years to $3,600 a year. Koontz cited the increased work load on the clerk due to passage last November of a $2,585,000 high school bond issue.

However, the board voted to offer a salary of $3,200 which Koontz then declined. Board Vice President Orin Naragon was appointed

McBride Opposes Knox School Merger Plan At Public Session

Petitions for consolidation were circulated among the 200 Knox Local district residents attending a town hall meeting last night at Knox School when James L. McBride, Columbiana County school superintendent, gave a five-point outline opposing the merger.

Dale Schoeni, Knox board president, presented the platform of Knox district advocates for consolidation with the new Smith-Sebring-Goshen School district.

In his five-point summation McBride said that if Knox would consolidate with the other three schools: The school would be annexed to a large district in another county (Mahoning); Knox would lose legal title to all its property; it would be subject to opinion of three other partners of the school district; the school plant would of necessity have to wait its turn for funds to keep it in repair; the school would possibly lose some of its best teachers.

Schoeni told the assemblage that for several years the Knox district students have been attending Goshen Union, Sebring and Alliance schools nearly $30,000 annually in tuition payments goes to the three schools because of the lack of a 12-year program at Knox, Schoeni said.

In addition, the board president said, the school is penalized about $8,700 yearly because it does not support 12 years of education for the students; and the rate, he said, would show an increase as the number of students increases. He said Goshen Union High School collects $10,000 in rehabilitation money from the state for educating Knox high school students.

Schoeni also reminded the group that beginning in the fall of this year the Knox district would be required to pay full tuition on increased enrollment of the high school students going into other districts. If the district were to become a part of the Mahoning Local District, the payments would be nullified, he said. Also the school has been advised that after September, 1957, the Alliance school would not be able to accept additional Knox pupils, he added.

With the combined tax evaluation of the four districts — if the consolidation were to become a

Atty. Arfman Files For Prosecutor Post

Atty. Herbert Arfman of 235 High St., Leetonia, a Salem attorney, filed with the county board of elections today as a Democratic candidate for Columbiana County prosecutor.

Arfman is the first to file for the office, which is being vacated by Prosecutor James MacDonald. MacDonald, a Republican, is a candidate for the second common pleas judgeship which the Ohio legislature approved for this county.

Atty. G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, a Republican, has announced his candidacy for prosecutor but has not filed.

Key Problems For New Congress—

This election year promises to be a busy one for Congress. With the interests of their constituents and their parties in mind, congressmen will be jockeying for legislation most favorable to these interests. Below are illustrated six of the biggest problems before this second session of the 84th Congress. How they are handled will carry much weight at the polls in November. And Congress knows it.

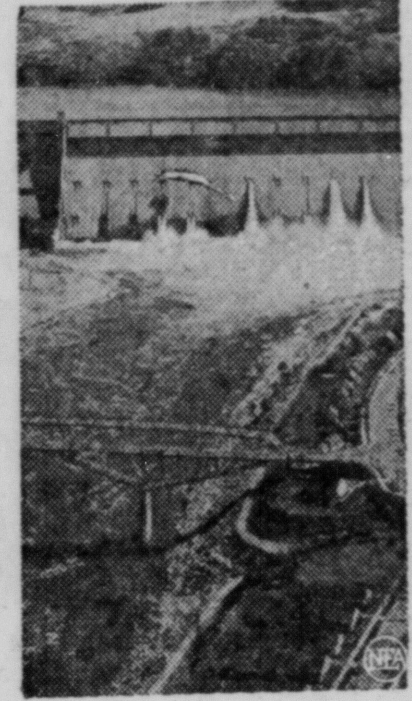

TAX CUT: Seems to hinge on whether the budget can be balanced. Many congressmen from both parties now feel it's better politics to reduce the national debt rather than taxes.

FOREIGN AID: Congressional majority seems to favor reducing foreign economic aid. But military aid might be increased. Republican party split seen here.

FARM POLICY: A grab bag. Nearly everyone has "a plan" to give farmer more income, especially congressmen from farm-economy areas. What the result will be is unpredictable.

POWER POLICY: Problem here involves debate over public vs. private power development. Democrats will promote public power projects, hope to exploit Dixon-Yates controversy.

AID TO EDUCATION: State vs. federal aid is still the big debate. President now leans toward limited federal aid. Congress, also, seems to oppose large federal aid.

HIGHWAY PROGRAM: Related to tax reduction problem. Administration favors "pay-as-you-go" aid for needed roads. Means probable rise in excise taxes on gasoline, autos, trucks.

Sketched by Ralph Tee For The Salem News

By R. W. KAMINSKY

Now that the holidays are over most households are once again settling back into their normal routine. It's a very good time to suggest you try your hand at a picture album. Pictures, album, paste pot and a little imagination are the only ingredients necessary for creating a photo album that's fun to make and a delight to own.

You can start from scratch and make simple sturdy covers out of cardboard, wood, leather or heavy acetate sheets. The pages between the covers can be made of art paper cut to size, or you can buy ready-made album leaves of suitable dimensions.

In mounting your snapshots, don't limit yourself to a row-upon-row arrangement. Experiment with various layouts — and don't be afraid of borrowing a bit of technique from your favorite picture magazines.

Some of your more interesting shots can be given added importance through enlargement. The resulting contrast in size lends extra eye-appeal to the page.

Of course, if you don't feel ambitious enough to tackle a complete "do-it-yourself" job, there's a wide variety of albums and scrapbooks already on the market to choose from. One that we especially like has transparent envelopes for pages. Come in and see what we have.

Ohio Is Given Old Hospital

To Be Used For Work With Mentally Ill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has been given a former federal hospital in Cleveland which it plans to use for treatment of the mentally ill.

The U. S. Department of Welfare announced yesterday it was turning over the old U. S. Marine Hospital to the state.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said the institution "will be a relief valve for the mental hospitals in the Cleveland area, and we hope to have it open at least partly by this summer."

The hospital plant consists of 9,537 acres of land and 13 buildings which originally cost the government $1,863,883.

Porterfield said the state will start renovating the buildings when it gets the deed.

He said his department has one million dollars to use for renovation. All of it might not be used, he explained. When the money was allocated, the state expected to pay something for the buildings.

Porterfield said mentally ill persons of various age groups who can be treated successfully and quickly will be transferred to the new facility. The hospital will have a capacity of about 275.

The welfare department said Ohio may use the hospital for 20 years. If it carries out the contemplated mental health use during this time, it then will receive full title.

During these 20 years, the government will retain the right to take back the hospital for its own use or in event of non-use by the state.

Ohio will have to pay about $2,000 for the cost of transferring the property, the welfare department said.

The hospital, declared surplus to the government, was awarded to the state after consideration of five other formal applications. These were from Cuyahoga County commissioners, Cleveland Memorial Medical Foundation, Cleveland Polytechnic Hospital, the Montefiore Home and Cleveland Bible College.

The welfare department said its award was based on a review of health needs in Ohio. The study, it added, showed the state's need of hospital beds for mental health purposes was only about 20 percent met.

SPRAY-ON DRESSING—A transparent, plastic bandage is sprayed on a wound after surgery in a Cincinnati, Ohio, hospital. The spray-on dressing allows a surgeon to study surgical wounds during recovery without removing the bandage. The bandage sticks to the skin, drying in about 30 seconds, but it won't stick to the raw wound itself.

Dairy Experts Say Milk Aids Reducing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dairy experts attending the 20th annual convention of the Ohio Milk Producers' Assn. here today say:

"You can still have a whistle-worthy figure and drink milk," Miss Emily Bennett told the 30 delegates. She is executive director of the Central Dairy Council, Louisville, Ky.

Milk can serve as a reducer by curbing appetite, said Dr. G. M. Trout of Michigan State University's dairy department. He based his statement on what he said was a survey of Michigan coeds.

Miss Marguerite Gustafson, director of home service for the American Dairy Assn., said teenagers prefer a soft drink diet to milk because of "an association between milk and childhood which they want to be rid of."

Senators Dispute Statement By Cole That Ike Shouldn't Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators today sharply disputed a statement by Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.) that "it is not for the best interest of the country" that President Eisenhower attempt a second term.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said that "if the President decides to run it will be with the knowledge that he can do the job that he is undertaking."

Sen. Thyne (R-Minn.) said in a separate interview that Eisenhower "with half a heart would be better than some people with a full heart."

In the meantime four other Republican senators said Eisenhower's recent statements and his decision to resume news conferences have convinced them he intends to run again.

But Republican Sen. Young of North Dakota said he still doesn't expect the President to seek a second term.

Cole, one of the original Eisenhower-for-president supporters in 1952, said he does not believe it is fair to appeal to Eisenhower's sense of duty in efforts to get him to run again.

"It is very well to speak of the return to a normal life of those other persons who have suffered heart attacks, but there is nothing normal about the presidency," Cole declared. "There is nothing normal about the presidency and there is nothing normal about the times."

"I say that if Dwight Eisenhower again becomes a candidate for president he will be elected and if he were in full and sound health, I would urge him to run. But I believe that Dwight Eisenhower should not, and will not again become a candidate for public office."

Sen. Mundt of South Dakota, former chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said recent events have made a second-term believer of him.

"The mere fact that he had a news conference in Key West and plans more of them here indicates to me that he will run again. He is certainly not acting like a man who is not going to be a candidate."

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) said he read into Eisenhower's remarks about duty and the "inspirations" he found in the presidency a sense of responsibility and reward that Bender said indicate the President isn't going to quit unless his doctors tell him he can't stand the physical strain.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) one of the original group who helped get Eisenhower into the race in 1952, said he thinks the President wants to run again and he expects him to do so.

Vice President Nixon, who got plaudits from leading Republicans at a 43rd birthday party last night, was represented in some quarters as putting out feelers to determine what support he might assemble if Eisenhower doesn't run. Nixon has been reported in conversations on this score with some governors, including Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois.

Rule That Never Fails

Every governor of a state containing one or more Westinghouse plants, every mayor of a city containing a plant, every sheriff of a county containing a plant, has been put on the spot by strike violence or the threat of violence since the International Union of Electrical Workers began its strike last Oct. 17.

The original strike was joined on Oct. 26 by some 9,000 members of the United Electrical Workers on Oct. 26. Theoretically, this made the strike absolute.

Since then it has been plain each day that union absolutism in the case of the Westinghouse strike is backfiring. Many workers have rebelled. The Westinghouse Corp. has not been intimidated.

Officials of state and local government who have been put on the spot by the tactics of absolute unionism have not been scared into hiding. Gov. Lausche of Ohio voiced a typical reaction when he said the state would intervene to maintain law and order.

This fits into the new pattern of federal policy on industrial disputes—that they must be dealt with locally, with the federal government acting only as a mediator when it services have been requested.

The Eisenhower administration has not played the third-party role in labor disputes played by the Truman and Roosevelt administrations. It has not subscribed to the theory that unions are private organizations with absolute powers over individuals.

There is one rule about absolute power that never fails. In unions as in government, absolute power ultimately leads to absolute corruption of power. And that, in turn, leads to the downfall of absolutism, a lesson it seems doubtful unionist leaders are capable of learning in time to sidestep a public reaction that will rival the anti-monopoly campaign which clipped the wings of another kind of absolutism half a century ago.

Removing The Sticking Point

If the proposed Bricker amendment to the Constitution is submitted again in this session of Congress in the newest of its revised forms, it should win approval with no trouble.

In its newest revision, the sticking point has been removed. This always has been the claimed necessity of clearing treaties and agreements with Congress and perhaps even with state legislatures before they would have effect.

Although this was a lawyers' quibble, no one had any doubt what it would do to the executive power to make treaties and agreements. It would make the legislative branch coequal with the executive branch in a function belonging solely to the executive branch.

That is where the issue was joined and that is where the Bricker proposal was narrowly defeated — narrowly because many Americans wanted it to be settled once and for all that the treaty-making power never could be misused to change internal law. Many Americans still want that to be made clear, although they do not want to revise the balance of federal power to do it.

In its revised form, the Bricker proposal reads like this:

"No treaty or other international agreement shall of itself be law within the United States, nor shall it enlarge the power of the Congress to enact law."

That would do what needs to be done without upsetting the balance of federal power.

The Pyramids Were Faster

Dr. John D. Porterfield, Ohio's director of mental hygiene and correction, has put his finger on two points of special interest in the new building program authorized by voters last November.

Referring to the 75 million dollars earmarked for his department, Dr. Porterfield declares there are so many things that need to be done that a large part of the total could be spent on furnishing toilet facilities in buildings already in existence.

But that would not be a wise expenditure of public funds. Ohioans are entitled to an overall improvement in facilities, and he intends to do everything in his power to use the 75 million for new construction where it will do the most good.

That, in turn, brings up another difficulty. With so much to be done and so little to do it with, politics must be suspended. Writing in "The Ohio Citizen," Dr. Porterfield says that in the face of needs that had reached a total of 140 million dollars before the new building program was authorized, "the funds available must be expended in the most carefully planned way and there is literally no room for political considerations, pressure groups seeking more than an equitable share for their interests, or any of the other factors so often attributed to such a capital investment."

A dollar isn't worth a dime unless you spend it. Then it's worth about fifty cents.

Yielding To Blackmail

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Little Protest Raised To Red Tactics

Two of the most flagrant cases of international blackmail are going almost unnoticed in the court of public opinion. Scarcely any candidates for office in either party in America and hardly any statesmen in Europe and Asia are saying a word about it.

The first case is the ultimatum of the Red China government delivered recently at Geneva that unless the secretary of state of the United States agrees to meet personally with the head of the gangster regime of China, the several Americans held prisoner in Red China will not be released.

The second is the refusal of the Moscow government to release 100,000 German citizens taken prisoner more than ten years ago in World War II. The initial step in the blackmail came when the Soviet government last summer demanded that the West German government receive an ambassador from Moscow and then the prisoners could be released.

CHANCELLOR Adenauer agreed reluctantly to this deal and now has received the Soviet ambassador at Bonn but only 10,000 out of the 100,000 prisoners have been returned to Germany. The rest are to be held as hostages by the Soviet for future bargaining purposes just as the Red Chinese deliberately imprisoned American citizens to use them as pawns in international barter.

Yet admission of the Red China regime is favored by many persons in America and abroad who claim the United Nations must inevitably accept the Peiping government. Even Edgar Faure, premier of France, said the other day that the recognition of Red China had to come about if the world was to be "realistic."

This is the line of argument used by those who legally contend that the Communist government controls most all of the territory of China and that it isn't the business of the U.N. under international law to inquire into the kind of government — free of slave — which a country may have within its borders.

THE CHARTER of the U.N., on the other hand, forbids membership to aggressor governments. Indeed the legalism argument runs up against a stone wall the moment all the "realistic" facts are set forth honestly.

The United Nations is at war with Red China. Although an armistice was signed at Panmunjom, no treaty of peace has ever been consummated. In fact, the armistice terms have been repeatedly violated. The pertinent facts are:

1. The United Nations maintains a war command in Korea today. All the legal circumstances of a state of war still exist.

2. The United Nations by resolution has denounced Red China as an aggressor but nevertheless the Red China government still maintains its armies in North Korea where the aggression occurred.

3. The United Nations has proposed that the unification of Korea be achieved under the supervision of a commission of U.N. members but the Red Chinese have refused to agree to negotiate on this proposal and the state of war goes on.

HOW CAN RED CHINA be admitted into the same organization with which her government is in a state of war unless the U.N. is without honor or courage? This is the realism that America sees.

While President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have urged that force be renounced as a means of unifying either Germany or Korea the fact remains that, in the absence of military force, only moral force — an appeal to the morality and conscience of the free world and to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain — can be exerted.

Syngman Rhee cries out against the presence of Red China armies in Korea just as Chancellor Adenauer inveighs against the Moscow government for continuing to keep her armies in East Germany. The rest of the world's statesmen are not saying anything on this moral issue — the blackmail tactics of the Communists.

Two weeks ago Sen. Knowland called on all presidential candidates to declare themselves as to what they will recommend that this country should do if Red China is voted into the United Nations at the meeting of the General Assembly to be held just after the 1936 presidential election in the United States.

BOTH PARTIES in Congress have by resolution declared themselves almost unanimously against admission of Red China into the U.N. It is not a partisan issue.

This much seems certain — the day the U.N. votes Red China into the U.N. there will be started the biggest wave of protest against entangling alliances with other nations that has been noted in America since the 1920's, when American entry into the League of Nations was opposed so vehemently.

Recalling the futility of the sacrifice of American blood — more than 140,000 casualties — it will be asked: "Of what use will it be to send troops to Europe or Asia hereafter if the net result is a sell-out on moral principles by our allies?"

IF THE EUROPEANS who favor Red China want its government seated in the U.N. they will have to weigh that decision against the complete loss of confidence by the American people thereafter in the U.N. To forsake America in favor of Red China will not benefit Europe in the long run.

For then the biggest blackmail of the century — enforced entry into the U.N. by means of a shooting war — will have been successfully perpetrated by the Red China government, aided and abetted by the Soviet government, which has publicly admitted that it furnished the arms and ammunition for the war against the U.N.

Accidents Worry Congressmen

Can the federal government do anything to help cut down the growing number of deaths and injuries caused by automobile accidents?

At least one member of Congress thinks so. Rep. Kenneth Roberts is drafting a resolution calling for a national study of traffic accidents to see if the Congress could take steps to curb the mounting death toll.

The Alabamian is not going to pre-judge this problem, but he is wondering if some safety equipment standards might be a partial answer.

"Safety equipment standards have played a part in cutting down on accidents in motor trucks, on railroads, and in air transportation," Roberts said. "Something along this line for automobiles might have some good results, too."

As a member of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, Roberts has followed the operations of the Interstate Commerce Commission in promoting safety equipment standards for commercial carriers using railroads and motor trucks.

"Some automobile manufacturers are offering safety belt equipment on their cars," said the Alabamian. "And that's a step in the right direction. But there is still too much stress on fast starts and not enough stress on fast stops."

"I'm not an engineer, but I have a feeling that some of our cars are being built without a proper balance between horsepower and brake-power. It may be that some of the cars are getting bigger and faster and heavier and, at the same time, harder to stop."

Roberts said that some authorities on highway safety report that a principal cause of motor accidents is high speed, or speed that gets out of control.

"Some have suggested that governors ought to be put on cars," Roberts continued. "That's a device for slowing cars to a certain fixed maximum speed. But, this type of limit on power might, itself, contribute to accidents.

"It is entirely possible that engineering experts, perhaps scientists in the Bureau of Standards, can work out a sensible ratio between horsepower and brakes. If so, it ought to be a standard requirement in automobile manufacturing."

Roberts hopes to have his resolution ready to introduce in the next week or so. It likely will be referred to his own interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee for action.

French Agreement

France's Decay

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

One of man's most difficult problems is to find a suitable system of government. Many methods have been tried over many thousands of years.

It cannot be said that any method has worked well over a prolonged period.

That is precisely what bothers France and has continuously bothered France since the Revolution of 1789. What they have today is called the Fourth Republic. It is designed to produce what the French call democracy, but it does no such thing.

FRANCE IS ACTUALLY governed by a permanent bureaucracy which continues no matter which political group is in power and which from day to day really makes policy. The National Assembly is a conglomeration of elected representatives who are split up among 18 political parties which are, in themselves, small and unrepresentative.

To the French concept, smallness is true democracy and the deals safeguard the people, even if the deals consist of corruption and the virtual sale of Cabinet positions. The quarrels between Mande-France and Faure are strictly personal and represent a conflict of private ambitions.

The realistic evil in the French system is proportional representation which is a device to give minority parties a place in the government.

WHILE THE SYSTEM of proportional representation is designed to produce more democracy than a rigid two-party system, in actual practice, it lessens responsibility, destroys efficiency and produces political helplessness.

This is the twenty-second French government since 1945. In that same period, the United States has had two changes of administration: one, when Harry Truman succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt who died; the other when Eisenhower succeeded Truman, who did not run, in a constitutionally fixed election.

Russia has had two shifts of the center of power in a continuous administration: one, when Stalin died and was succeeded by the triumvirate of Malenkov, Beria and Molotov; the other, when the Khrushchev - Bulganin combination took first place.

GREAT BRITAIN has had three changes: one, when the labor party, under Attlee, defeated the Conservatives, under the leadership of Winston Churchill; two, when Churchill returned to power; three, when Anthony Eden succeeded Churchill who resigned for old age. Both Attlee and Churchill continue as members of Parliament.

France's weakness is an inability for any responsible party or individual to remain in power for a sufficient period to permit a policy to be completed. This gives the permanent non-elective bureaucracy too much authority; it lessens the importance of the elected officials.

INSTEAD OF DEMOCRACY being strengthened, it is actually vitiated. It is devitalized. When Poulade, the new French demagogue, ridicules the parliamentary system, he gains in strength among the people. Is it because the French people have already concluded that their form of democracy is ridiculous or that democracy is ridiculous?

If the former, they could improve their system; if the latter, we shall before long have a Hitler-type of government running France. That has happened in France before and can happen again.

The last attempt for dictatorship in France was in the politics of Gen. Georges Boulanger who in 1886 became minister of war. He stirred the French people against Germany, improved the army, made himself popular and set out to establish himself as a dictator. He failed and eventually committed suicide in exile. The term, "Man on Horseback," was first used to describe Boulanger.

During World War II and immediately after, it was anticipated that Gen. Charles de Gaulle would play a role similar to Boulanger's, but while de Gaulle gained popularity in France, he put country above self.

DE GAULLE MIGHT have developed a dictatorial government, but he vacillated. Also, he was opposed by both Roosevelt and Stalin, for different reasons, and they employed their great strength against him. This may prove historically to be an example of foresight on the part of Stalin.

Mendes - France can never become a Boulanger or a de Gaulle because of his origin and his personality, but the shopkeeper, Poulade, might because he represents a mass revolt against political absurdity and unpopular taxes.

The theory that American dollars might help to save France is untenable. The best way to defeat the demagogism of Poulade is to withhold American dollars until France wins respect for stability.

If France is offered money by Russia and takes it, we know with what kind of lady we are dealing.

This fellow Dixon in Belmont County doesn't ask questions; he just digs roots and sends them to China under an international agreement which says medical supplies can be sent anywhere.

The first truckload of thistle roots will be dug at the Twillery as soon as the frost goes out of the ground. The roots will be labeled "Antibiotics," which will be translated freely into Chinese as Tarry-Mycin. If Dixon can root around and get rich, why shouldn't Twill be a big man with roots, too?

No one knows what the Chinese do with May apple roots, and no one knew why they valued ginseng, other than for the symbolism of its twisted roots. Or to be honest

Dummies And Jackpots

Quiz shows have reached the point where dummies are not limited to participants. Edgar Bergen has flung Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and company onto the field of the super jackpot contests. On a new TV program, $100 a week for life is yours, with a touch of Hollywood, old-time vaudeville and the Elks Smoker. There is to be said of the new format: UNDER IT THE SHOW WOULD BE FUNNY EVEN IF THE CONTESTANTS DIDN'T SHOW UP!

THE HUNT FOR a super jackpot to top all super jackpots has been hot. The entrance of Bergen and his dummies into the act is the talk of show biz and quiz fans. If the fans don't like ventriloquists this could kill quiz programs. But if they do there could be a craze for jackpot shows requiring that you watch a voice-thriller's throat muscles simultaneously with watching a contestant's nerves strain.

From our observation of wooden dummies, they can, with notable exceptions, raise the intellectual level of a lot of quiz programs. (There were moments on the Bergen premiere when the dummies seemed comparatively brilliant). The format takes the play away from a contestant and makes him a straight man or stooge for any Mortimer Snerd.

The performance is always in the realm of ventriloquism. Bergen is so good he could even give the right answers invincibly if the participants know enough to move their lips and let no sound escape.

THERE IS NO TELLING where the trend may lead. We may encounter a jackpot program using elephants, seals, trained poodles, ballets and acrobats (That's an idea! An emcee asking questions from a flying trapeze as Mrs. Arabell Swizzle, of Blison City, makes with the answers while turning a triple somersault from her psychiatrist's shoulders).

The Bergen pattern makes things easier for loser . . . they can get a laugh, even when dismally unhappy. There might come a night when a contestant would show up with his own DUMMY and give his answers through it, insisting that what is fair for the emcee is fair for the waxworks. In Edgar's format called "Do You Trust Your Wife?" a man and wife appear and the husband decides whether to answer a question or trust his spouse to do so. (It is sure to bust up thousands of homes. If the missus muffs the big dough it's a case of "I overestimated your intelligence," and "You big coward; why didn't you answer it yourself?" all through the night.)

FRANCE SEEMS to have succeeded in disposing of good government and substituting amateur wrestling. . . La Belle no longer looks like a resolute, vigorous, heroic gal, singing the Marseillaise, but a weak sister, shallow, frivolous and a little cockeyed, crying "My tax aches give me backaches." . . . "The last time I saw Paris, the Poulades were not there."

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are back in their Waldorf super suit, and the Duke announces his latest hobby is gardening, specializing in roses, dahlias and delphiniums. . . Fram the "Iron hand to the green thumb," as it were.

Joe Louis, who took down over $4,000,000 in fight purses, owes the government a million, smackers in taxes. . . How come? Is it possible one of the fastest movers in ring history couldn't corner an arithmetic table? Or that a fighter with a colossal punch couldn't knock out a careless accountant?

Dismal as was Red Skelton's last show around the oldest of all subjects (barbershops) nothing left the audience groggy than the observation that it took FIVE AUTHORS!!!!

Patrolmen Probe 794 Accidents, Arrest 2,195

30 Persons Killed, 469 Hurt In 1955 Area Road Mishaps

Four more traffic fatalities occurred in 1955 in this district over those compiled in 1954 but there were 29 fewer traffic mishaps and 19 fewer injuries on the highways last year, statistics show at the state highway patrol barracks here.

According to Cpl. John Miller, officer in charge of the Salem barracks, patrolmen investigated a total of 794 traffic mishaps in which 30 persons were killed in the county and 469 were injured in 1955. In 1954, 823 traffic mishaps occurred, accounting for 26 deaths and 488 injuries.

More drivers heeded traffic rules last year, as only 2,195 arrests were made by the patrol, compared with 2,957 in 1954. A breakdown of 1955 arrests shows that 498 persons were cited following traffic collisions and 1,094 for traffic violations. The other 603 arrests were on 591 misdemeanor charges and 12 felonies.

4,392 Warnings Issued
Cpl. Miller reported that 4,392 written warnings were issued by patrolmen during the year. Two airplane crashes were investigated, and of the eight hit-skip auto accidents reported, four were solved, he said.

Two hundred and fifteen complaints of all kinds were investigated, 134 school buses and 30 church buses were inspected, and patrolmen served on 275 special details.

A total of 606 drivers' examinations was given by the patrol in addition to those administered by regular examiners in the county. Patrolmen gave 54 talks to organizations and appeared on 37 radio broadcasts in 1955, Miller said. The patrol recovered a total of $10,000 in lost or stolen property, arrested 63 drunken drivers on district highways and conducted 149 public utility investigations.

Approximately 1,817 hours of instruction were given the patrol auxiliary by local state patrolmen and the auxiliary donated 1,104 hours to patrol duty.

Most Dangerous Highways
The most dangerous stretches of highways in the district last year were Rt. 62, west of Salem to Alliance; Rt. 30, west of Lisbon; and Rt. 45, between Lisbon and Salem, Miller said. He said reports show that most of the 1955 traffic accidents and fatalities occurred on country roads or secondary state roads and not main highways.

Rt. 14, previously considered one of the most dangerous highways in the county, dropped off in accidents and fatalities during 1955 due to the repairs made on it and the alternate route instituted, Miller said, but the other three highways mentioned picked up in their totals. Weekends were the most dangerous to drivers and passengers, with sundown and early evening the worst time of day to drive, Miller reported.

May and July were the worst months for accidents and fatalities. During July, five persons were killed and 49 were injured in the total of 74 mishaps. In May, five deaths and 50 injuries occurred in 63 mishaps.

A breakdown by months of accidents, deaths and injuries during 1955 follows:

January, 55-3-36; February, 68-2-17; March, 65-0-22; April, 51-0-37; May, 63-5-50; June, 71-4-66; July, 74-5-49; August, 67-4-39; September, 52-1-40; October, 87-2-35; November 69-2-41; and December, 72-2-37.

In the above monthly figures, the accident and injury totals pertain to all mishaps occurring in the Salem patrol district, which is composed of Columbiana and portions of Stark, Mahoning, Carroll, and Jefferson counties, but the traffic deaths are the Columbiana County monthly totals only.

According to Parker C. Williams, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, a public income tax class in this area will be conducted in the East Liverpool Y.M.C.A. Wednesday at 9 a.m. A similar course of instruction was given at the VFW auditorium in Youngstown Monday.

The class is open to the public and particularly to attorneys, accountants and corporate representatives who will assist others in preparing returns. No reservations are required and there will be no admission charge.

In addition to the tax schools, a telephone advisory service will be available at the mayor offices during each working day until April 16, the final date for filing returns. The service will answer questions concerning the preparation of returns.

Mondays and Fridays have been designated as taxpayer assistance days in the major offices. On these days, specially trained agents will be available to advise taxpayers and to assist in the completion of the more complicated returns.

The nearest major office in this area is in Youngstown. All other offices within the district will give assistance only on days when they are normally open.

DECADE OF PROGRESS—Americans are going into 1956 with signs of continued prosperity, at least for the first part of the year. That prosperity has come a long way since 1946, as this Newschart shows. Using some of the important yardsticks of economic growth, it portrays the expansion of business activity in the U. S., reducing estimated 1955 totals to percentages of 1946 production. With 1946 equaling 100 per cent, chart shows, for example, that electric power production in 1955 equaled over 225 per cent of the 1946 total. All of the items represent physical units rather than dollar amounts. Data from Cleveland Trust Co.

Almost 250 Robins Observed In Recent Area Bird Count

The highlight of the Christmas bird count made recently by the members of the Salem Bird Study Club was the observation of nearly 250 robins, the largest number ever seen on a Salem count.

A total of 2,253 individuals of 50 species was recorded. The number of species seen is the largest ever recorded here, but the number of individuals seen was smaller than the 2,896 listed last year.

The robins seen reflect the relative mildness of the winter. More have been seen this season than in any winter since 1932-33. Thirteen bluebirds seen also was the highest count made since 1932. Other half-hardy birds recorded were three red-winged blackbirds, four towhees, one purple grackle, a cowbird and a killdeer. The cowbird was the first ever recorded on the day of the Salem count and the killdeer was the first seen since 1915.

No ducks of any species were seen because of the previous freezing of the lakes, but two great blue herons and five kingfishers were found along open stretches of Beaver Creek. Only one northern species, the pine siskin, was found in the count. A single rare species, the long-eared owl, was seen in a hemlock grove by Dr. G. W. Richter.

The Salem Christmas count was inaugurated in 1909 by Henry W. Weisgerber and has been made without interruption since 1936.

National Christmas counts were started in 1900 by Dr. Frank M. Chapman of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City as a substitute for Christmas bird shoots which were popular before the turn of the century. Last year over 6,000 persons in the U.S. and Canada participated. The national record for the number of species seen—184—was set two weeks ago at Cocoa, Fla., by Roger Peterson, Allan Cruikshank and other widely known ornithologists.

Taking part in the local count were Albert T. Hartley, Ernest Guindon, Dr. Richter, Roy A. Booth, Casper Gabler, Inez Heiser, Katherine Hole, Margaret Baker, Ford N. Dilworth, Raymond O. Marshall and William C. Baker.

The birds seen follow: Great blue heron, 2; sharp-shinned hawk, 1; Cooper's hawk, 3; red-tailed hawk, 3; marsh hawk, 1; sparrow hawk, 9; ruffed grouse, 1; bob-white, 9; ring-necked pheasant, 3; killdeer, 1; mourning dove, 5; screech owl, 2; horned owl, 2; long-eared owl, 1; belted kingfisher, 5; pileated woodpecker, 3; redbellied woodpecker, 9; redheaded woodpecker, 14; hairy woodpecker, 25.

Downy woodpecker, 50; horned lark, 22; blue jay, 63; crow, 31; black-capped chickadee, 58; Carolina chickadee, 14; tufted titmouse, 110; whitebreasted nuthatch, 75; red-breasted nuthatch, 2; brown creeper, 9; winter wren, 2; Carolina wren, 13; robin, 249; bluebird, 13; golden-crowned kinglet, 3.

Cedar waxwing, 5; starling, 242; English sparrow, 174; redbellied blackbird, 3; purple grackle, 1; cowbird, 1; cardinal, 128; purple finch, 4; pine siskins, 25; goldfinch, 31; towhee, 4; slate-colored junco, 120; tree sparrow, 624; field sparrow, 2; swamp sparrow, 19; song sparrow, 43.

Also seen during the Christmas week were 100 rusty blackbirds, meadowlarks and a white-throated sparrow.

Charles E. Cooke, Former Police Chief Here, Active At 90

Charles E. Cooke, former chief of police here in the early 1900's, celebrated his 90th birthday Dec. 16 in Ephrata, Wash., where he has lived the past nine years. Mr. Cooke went to Ephrata to assist his grandson, Charles Cooke Jr., with the work at the recreation center there.

"Dad," as he is affectionately called at the center, was born on a farm in Mahoning County the day Abraham Lincoln was shot, Dec. 16, 1865.

He is still hale and hearty and works in the center from 7 a.m. until about midnight. He likes to keep busy. "I wouldn't be happy without anything to do," he insisted.

In regard to his service in police work, Mr. Cooke said, "I have a clean name. I never sent a girl or a boy to reform school. I preferred to watch them myself. A reformatory doesn't help; the youngsters just acquire more skill there," he stated. "Only one out of 100 is improved in such a school."

After his retirement as chief of police here, Mr. Cooke was a policeman at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. for several years. He later worked in the farm produce business.

Not Wealthy... Just Wise !

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe... the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above... costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride?

You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built... the finest-performing Cadillac of all time... and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

Dog, Buried For 4 1/2 Days, Found Alive

SEATTLE (AP)—Nobody had really expected to find Bonnie alive. The little 2-year-old wire-haired terrier had been buried for 4 1/2 days when she bounded into the arms of her master Jim Sneddon Monday.

The story of a man and his love for a dog started grimly last Thursday. A great mound of rain-loosened dirt smashed into Sneddon's home.

Sneddon's 10-year-old daughter Heather was buried alive for 15 minutes in her bedroom before Sneddon, a University of Washington photographer, clawed his way to her and lifted her to safety.

Sneddon and his wife considered themselves lucky to escape with their lives.

But they mourned too for Bonnie, trapped in the basement when the slide roared into the house.

Sneddon, 36, taken to the hospital with minor injuries, told his wife that some way, somehow, he would dig out his dog.

Immediately on his release from the hospital the following day, he went to the house.

"I called to Bonnie and she didn't answer. I saw how the entire floor had caved in and how impossible it seemed to find her alive."

Then, Monday, Sneddon received a telephone call from an unidentified woman who said she had heard a dog barking under the ruins of his home.

Sneddon raced to the demolished home. He grabbed a shovel and he started digging.

"I could hear Bonnie whining. Not barking, just whining."

His wife Irene got four other men to help him dig.

Three hours later, one of the men reached into an air pocket between two timbers and pulled forth a gaunt but otherwise uninjured Bonnie.

The little terrier scrambled up a mudbank from the ruins of the house into Sneddon's waiting arms.

hired for two years at a salary of $3,200 a year, and Koonz resumed his duties.

The board will take bids from local electrical firms on changing the switchboard in Salem High School. Supt. Kerr reported that the electrical current is wired wrong into the switch box and additions to the switch box in the past years have overloaded it.

To Exercise Land Options
The board adjourned open so that it can reconvene before Feb. 1 to approve picking up the options on the land between East Sixth and East Ninth Streets where the new senior high school is to be constructed.

The board is awaiting results of drilling tests being conducted on the site before it picks up the options. Deadline for taking up the options is Feb. 1.

The board will meet Thursday evening with members of the board of trustees of the Christian Church to discuss the relative locations of the proposed Christian Church and the new high school building.

The Christian Church and the school board will own adjoining land around Sixth St. and the board is anxious to get the final site of the school settled so that excavation can begin.

It is hoped to have the high school completed by January, 1958.

Farm Plan

is to hold wheat and cotton crops at or below market needs. If it is put into effect, and fulfills this goal, the government would need make no price support investments on these two commodities.

In other words, an effective operation of the soil bank plan would save at least 800 million dollars in new government funds for price supports.

Of course, this 800 millions would not be a saving of that amount because under price support operations the government trades dollars for farm products. But in the normal course of events, there would be some saving because the government, when it is able to dispose of surpluses, seldom get anything like the amount it has paid for them.

Effective operation of the plan also would cut the government's bill on storing surpluses, which has been running about a million dollars a day. Savings would result through withdrawal of surplus cotton and wheat from the government's pool to pay farmers for reducing their plantings of these crops.

Net Effect Uncertain

Just what the net effect the new farm recommendations might have on farm income this year is questionable. The direct payments in cash and kind under the soil bank would be about 750 million dollars more than direct payments made last year, assuming that all eligible farmers participated.

Such an increase in payments would fall short of covering a drop of $1,200,000,000 in farm income last year.

The unknown factor is the extent, if any, to which the program would stimulate farm product prices.

It is the theory of the soil bank plan that if farmers underplant cotton and wheat allotments and reduce plantings of other crops, commodity prices would increase.

Another complicating factor is that any increases in prices flowing from reduced plantings would be offset to some degree by the smaller volume of crops farmers would have to market.

Knox School

reality — the students could have a better education program, and the district would be better off tax-wise, Schoeni remarked.

The only building necessary if the consolidation went into effect would be that of a rural senior high school, according to Schoeni. He said the present elementary buildings of the four districts would be adequate to handle the increased enrollment, and seventh and eighth grades could be put into a junior high building.

McBride said that the Knox district should stay in Columbiana County and attempt a consolidation with the West Local School. He said overtures to the Knox board from the West board representative had been turned down.

Schoeni, however, said that the Knox board in 1950 contacted both West Local and United Local boards in an effort to formulate a consolidation plan. At both meetings, a minority of West local board members were present, according to Schoeni. He said the Knox school, due to lack of response, made no further attempts towards consolidation until United Local started plans for its high school.

McBride said that a consolidation with West Local would provide a school close to Knox citizens. Knox board members would be major stockholders, and the school would be a "desirable size" — around 400 students in upper grades.

McBride said the consolidation of Knox with the Mahoning Local District would be damaging to Columbiana County school children, and might hamper employment of a speech therapist or psychologist in the county.

Other county school officials at the meeting were Loren Ruff, assistant county superintendent, Ben Weingart, and Paul Wilms. Ralph Bradley, a Knox board member, explained the tax setup.

New Mahoning School Board Elects Shreve

The new Mahoning School District board, comprised of officials of recently merged Sebring, Smith Union and Goshen Union Schools, reorganized at a meeting Monday night in the Goshen Union High School.

Glenn Shreve of Damascus was elected president of the board, and George Gottschall of Sebring was named vice president.

The board employed Mrs. Rhea Emmons, former clerk in the Smith Union school district, as a clerk at an annual salary of $3,600. The office of the district will continue to remain at Maple Ridge School in Smith Township where Mrs. Emmons has been stationed in the past. Action will be taken to find a permanent and more central site on July 4.

All teacher contracts and all assets and liabilities of the three former school boards were assumed by the board at last night's meeting.

A tour and inspection of a new addition to Sebring High School will be taken by the board at a meeting at 7:30 Thursday night.

this idea, although he mentioned no possible ceiling.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), the committee chairman, said that as far as he is concerned, "90 per cent supports will be in our bill."

The administration has argued that the high rigid supports, originally imposed in World War II to encourage production, contributed to the piling up of more than seven billion dollars worth of surplus commodities now held by the government.

Endorses Ike's Plan

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which says it is the largest farm group, expressed qualified endorsement of Eisenhower's program. He said much of it is good, but that it does not include "a really effective means" of controlling land diverted from growing of surplus crops.

President James G. Patton of the National Farmers Union, which has opposed much of the administration's farm program, said the message did "not propose a single thing to raise farmers' income above the present depression level."

House Republicans from farm areas were less restrained about their unhappiness over the recommendations than those in the Senate.

Rep. Hope of Kansas, senior Republican on the Agriculture Committee, said, "I am sorry that there is nothing in the message which holds out any hope of increased farm income for 1956 when farmers need it so badly."

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) said, "I am

The New York Post said Miss Kelly was not amused and quoted the Prince as saying he did not know who the woman was who twice broke through guards to kiss him.

The state auditor's report submitted at the meeting revealed that the village has a bonded indebtedness as of Dec. 31, 1955 of $422,500, including a public utility debt of $385,000 and a general debt of $37,500. Cash in the bond retirement fund in the same period was $4,374.63.

Bonded debts listed in the report were the sewage treatment plant, $150,000; the interceptor sewer system, $235,000 and the swimming pool, $37,500.

The report also revealed that the water works bonds, which were to mature in 1960, were paid off in 1955. A final payment of $3,000 was made last year.

Councilmen agreed to give the Souders Engineering Co. of Lisbon a right of way across the pumping station land along E. Lincoln Way when the village purchases the parcel from the Erie Railroad.

They also voted to charge $1 for each table used at two pavilions in Willow Grove Park, owned by the village. Sanders, who made the motion to assess the charge, said the action would give more people a chance to use the pavilions, which have a total of seven Citrus crops, now in the midst of harvesting, appeared to have escaped serious damage. Growers, however, were warned to protect against continued cold.

Gale winds and rain struck the flood-stricken sections of the Nova Scotia-New Brunswick border and Prince Edward Island.

Fifteen rivers already were over their banks and hundreds of families have been forced to leave their homes since a week-long January thaw started rivers on the rampage last Friday.

Judge, Hillsboro School Board To Map Move On Integration

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel and the Hillsboro Board of Education will huddle tomorrow on whether to complete integration in the Hillsboro schools by next September.

The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals last Thursday directed Druffel to order the end of segregation by that time. But Druffel said he would refuse to lay down such an edict unless the school board said it could comply with the order.

School board members met last night but decided to withhold a decision until tomorrow's conference in Cincinnati with the just.

Charles J. Francis of Dayton, president of the Ohio branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said board members should tell Druffel what should be done rather than have him tell them.

"It's your responsibility, not Druffel's," Francis said.

This southwestern Ohio city with a population of 5,100 has 78 Negro children of elementary school age. Forty-seven are attending classes at the all-Negro Lincoln school and 11 are assigned to the Washington and Webster schools, that leaves 20 who are getting no schooling because of their parents' objections to their being sent to Lincoln.

There are about 830 Webster-Washington students.

The appeals court also had ordered immediate admittance of the Negro children not now in school.

Junior and high school students long have attended racially integrated classes.

The school board is pledged to abandon the Lincoln building and to integrate at all levels as soon as its present elementary school construction program is completed this year or next. School board officials say elimination of Lincoln now would overcrowd Washington and Webster classes.

Old Washington has been dismantled and its students are attending classes in the Webster annex.

NO ONE WAS HURT—Blazing remains of an Air Force Sabre Jet which exploded over Levittown, N.Y., turns a highway in the quiet Long Island suburb into an inferno. Capt. T. B. Buechler of Grand Island, Neb., parachuted from the 2nd Fighter-Interceptor group plane without harm. He is based at Suffolk County Air Base.

Youth's Driver's License Suspended Indefinitely

LISBON — A 15-year-old Lisbon area boy, arrested Dec. 30 by Youngstown police for stealing a car in the Courthouse parking lot here, had his driver's license suspended indefinitely Monday by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin.

Tobin ordered the boy not to drive without the court's permission. He also placed the youth in the custody of his parents and levied an 8 p.m. curfew on him until the school year ends.

The judge deferred sentencing Monday of Charles Frederick Neiser of East Liverpool on condition he remain on good behavior.

Arrested Dec. 11 for contributing to the delinquency of a Columbian youth, Neiser pleaded guilty the following day to the charge at a hearing in Juvenile Court before Judge Tobin and was sent to Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown for observation. Neise was returned from Woodside for Monday's hearing.

A 17-year-old Pennsylvania youth, arrested Dec. 31 by the state highway patrol for speeding, forfeited a $15 appearance bond yesterday.

Brown is scheduled to speak tonight before the Alco Sertoma Club in Lima and the Republican Club of nearby Dephos.

In what he billed as his first campaign speech last night, Brown told the Allen County Federated Republican Women's Club:

"What we have needed in Ohio for the last 12 years is leadership which will fight for a first class school system, not against it, and a leadership that is willing to raise the money to pay for such a system."

He said he supported state aid for education, as opposed to federal aid, on a "pay-as-we-go-basis."

High Liquor Tax Seen Aiding Still Operators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Buckeye Retail Liquor Dealers Assn. has been told that a high federal excise tax on liquor is creating "an ideal atmosphere" for illegal operators of stills.

Clarence Dufek of New York City, an executive of the Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., told the association's convention yesterday that reducing the federal tax would remove the profit incentive for illegal operators.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Glenn L. Martin, aviation pioneer who died Dec. 4, left an estate of more than 14 1/4 million dollars—the largest ever handled in Orphans Court here.

Martin left about $3,625,000 as gifts. He left $119,500 to individuals, including a $50,000 trust for a sister, Miss Della Martin of San Gabriel, Calif.

The rest of the estate, by terms of the will, is to be distributed according to Maryland law, which would mean Miss Martin would get the bulk of it. Martin was a bachelor.

Upon inheriting Little Creek plantation, Lawrence Washington renamed the place Mount Vernon, after the English admiral of that name, under whom he had served.

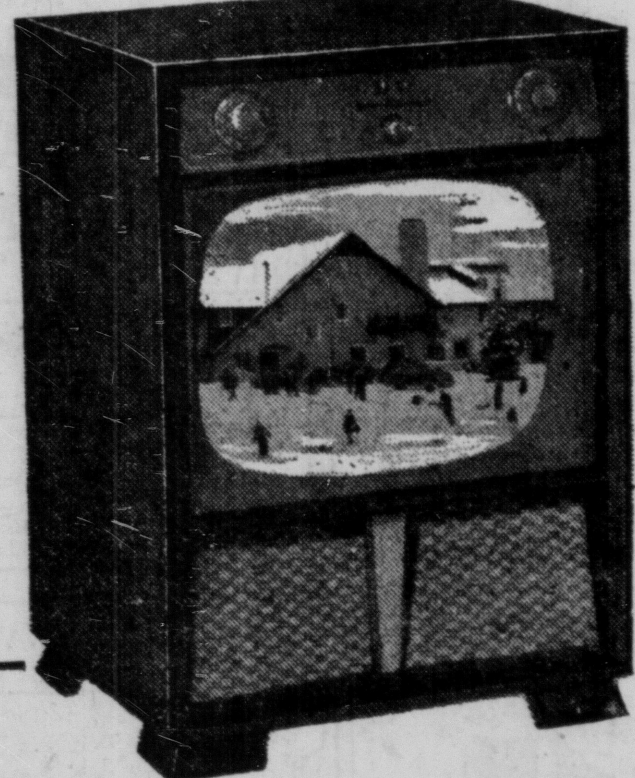

Polio Vaccine CAN'T HELP HER...

only YOU can

Your March of Dimes funds are providing the care she needs. For she is one of the tens of thousands of polio victims "born too soon"—before the epic polio vaccine. Today, March of Dimes funds which developed and tested the vaccine are financing research to improve it. But there still are polio victims who need help. And there will be tens of thousands more stricken before the nation has its blanket of protection. March of Dimes plus the hearts and hands of polio fighters everywhere must continue to provide our main bulwark against polio.
